

It's easy for me to tell when a soil product is good by the life that resonates from it.

You can feel the quality of Purple Cow just by putting your hand in it.

The structure is perfect, and the aliveness of it can be felt immediately.

I like to tell customers to think like a plant and ask if you would want to be planted in the soil you're putting it in.

If I were a plant, I would want to be planted in Purple Cow Organics Compost.

It's kind of like a luxury spa treatment for plants.

Our mantra at our nursery is "organic matter, organic matter, organic matter."

We can't emphasize to our customers enough about the importance of good soil.

Healthy soil means a healthy plant, it all starts from the ground up.

We recommend Purple Cow products to our customers because we know what a difference living, activated soil makes in the success of their gardens.

Ina

Blooming Valley Perennial Nursery
Sustainably growing a more beautiful world.

www.bloomingvalley.com

Email us some pictures and your story and get your "Garden Spotted" at:
spottedgarden@purplecoworganics.com

CHANGING THE EARTH ONE BAG AT A TIME™